Execulink Donates $1000 to Delhi Community Health Centre

Delhi, ON – July 10, 2015 – Execulink Telecom has brought the Delhi Community Health Centre one step closer to their $1.5 Million Dollar Expansion Project, with a $1000 donation.

The telecommunications provider has been deploying Fibre optics in town, and the DCHC project is a perfect fit for the company's commitment to giving back in the communities they serve.

"We are proud to support initiatives that benefit everyone in the community," says Execulink CEO Ian Stevens. "We understand how important a project like this is to the town of Delhi, and we are honoured to make this donation to the DCHC."

Specifically, Execulink's donation is part of the DCHC Phase 3 Expansion project which includes the development of two new buildings and additional parking space, increasing the health centre from 7,500 square feet to 12,500 square feet. Additional information about the project can be found by visiting <http://www.dchc.ca/expansion-project/>.
